Subject: Course Programme 2018 for Master programmes and Advanced Courses

Dear Sir/Madam,

It is with great pleasure that we share KIT's new course programme for 2018 with you. We offer master programmes and advanced courses at our training facilities in Amsterdam, as well as other locations in the world and through e-learning. This way, KIT equips health professionals with the skills and knowledge to address public health challenges around the world.

Besides our widely known Master in Public Health/International Course in Health Development and our Netherlands Course in Global Health and Tropical Medicine, we would like to highlight the following courses:

- Erasmus+ Master in International Health: A blended teaching programme given partly on location and partly by innovative distance learning methods. Jointly offered by KIT Royal Tropical Institute, University of Bergen and Queen Margaret University.
- NEW e-learning courses: Rebuilding Disrupted Health Systems – developing context-specific strategies for health care policies, implementation and governance and Mapping inequalities in health using GIS. Our e-learning courses allow you to combine study with work, while simultaneously benefiting from group interaction and group discussions.
- Numerous advanced courses on Health in Fragile and Conflict-affected Environments.
- MPH Track in Health Systems in Fragile and Conflict-affected Environments.

NFP Scholarships for KIT courses

The Netherlands Fellowship Programme (NFP) is offering multiple scholarships for students taking our courses in 2018. We bring to your attention that October 2017 is the NFP deadline for a large number of KIT courses taking place in Spring 2018. More information on other funding options can be found on our website: www.kit.nl/fellowships.

Thank you for sharing these brochures with friends, colleagues and peers, and disseminating them on to potential applicants. A digital copy of the brochure can be found on our website: www.kit.nl/course-brochures.

If you have any questions or like to receive more hardcopies, do let us know at: courses@kit.nl.

Visit our website www.kit.nl/training for further information.

With kind regards,
